NEW BASE OF SUPPLIES

Importance Attached to Occupation of Brandfort by British.

KEY TO THE DRAKKENBERG PASS.

Besides Menacing the Boers Southeast of Bloemfontein, Roberts May Be Able to Co-operate With General Buller.

London, May 4.—News of the occupation of Brandfort was issued by the war office at 10 a. m. confirming a dispatch previously received. It is generally considered the most important communication received from the front since the capture of General Cronje and the relief of Ladysmith. The fact that the position gives the key to one of the main roads leading to the Drakensberg passes, which possibly may be the means of co-operation with General Buller later on, provides an advance base of supplies, and at the same time menaces the Boers now southeast of Bloemfontein is obviously the reason for the importance attached by all hands to the intelligence.

The Boer army which was at Brandfort commanded by General Delarey is presumably retreating on Winburg which will possibly be the next immediate objective of the British. Brandfort, 35 miles nearer the Transvaal capital, is now Lord Roberts' headquarters.

What particularly gratifies the British public is the evidence that the army of Lord Roberts in the Orange Free State has recovered its mobility and is again capable of undertaking the general advance, so long retarded.

It is hardly expected that the Boers will make much of a stand south of Kronstadt and possibly not there if Lord Roberts succeeds in capturing Winburg, thus interposing between the main federal army and the Boer forces in the neighborhood of Thaba N'Chu and Houtnek in which case the latter would be forced to move further to the eastward in which direction their mobility would probably enable them to reach the Bethlehem and Harmsmith line of safety.

The only opposition which the British encountered at Brandfort seems to have come from the Irish-American command.

The central British army is now in line with the extreme left at Roshof, under Lord Methuen, and the extreme right at Elandsdagaat under General Buller, so that the movements of these wings in co-operation with the main army may shortly be expected.

An All Day's Battle.

Brandfort, May 4.—During an all day's battle the Boer defensive line remains intact and the British attempt to cut off Dewet and scatter the Boer force which is threatening Robert's flank and rear has been a complete failure so far. There was heavy fighting along the Thaba N' Chu-Sannas Post road, the British being slowly beaten back. Dewet, coming from the south and Grobler and Lemler from the north on Monday caught British reinforcements for Thaba N' Chu, in the apex of angle, forcing their withdrawal. In Tuesday's fighting the Boers had the better positions but the British were superior in numbers.

British Occupy Brandfort.

London, May 4.—Lord Roberts reports to the war office as follows under date of Bloemfontein, May 3: "We occupied Brandfort without much opposition and without, I hope, many casualties. The first brigade of mounted infantry covered the left flank of the 14th brigade of the seventh division and the right flank was supported by the 15th brigade. Pole-Carew's division advanced directly on Brandfort. The Boer army which was under command of Delarey retired in a northeasterly direction."

Boers Are Trekking.

Thaba N' Chu, May 4.—The Boers have evacuated Thaba N' Chu hill and are believed to be still trekking, though one gun has shelled the camp intermittently. Scouts report that some of the Boers retired toward Wepener. They believe the Boers evacuated the position during the night, trekking northwardly in three directions. General French left. General Rundle is in command here. It is expected that General Brabant will effect a junction at any moment.

About 25,000 Standard Oil employees will have their wages raised 10 per cent.

Railroad bridge on Baltimore and Ohio near Warwick, Ohio, burned and tramps are blamed.

Successor to General Wheeler as congressman from Eighth Alabama district will be elected August 6.

ENDED AT LAST.

Strike Against the Big Consolidated Formally Declared Off.

Cleveland, May 4.—The strike of the employees of the Big Consolidated Street Railway company, which resulted in much rioting during its progress last summer has just been formally declared off by the union. A boycott was successfully maintained against the various lines of the company for several months after the strike had been broken which proved very costly to the company. It is announced now that a settlement satisfactory to the men has been reached. It is said those of the former employees who are desirous of reinstatement will be taken back, some of them at once and others as rapidly as places can be made for them.

Situation Unchanged.

Constantinople, May 4.—The situation regarding the American indemnity claims is unchanged. As a result of representations by Mr. Lloyd C. Griscom, the American d' affairs, two Armenians who had been prevented from embarking by the authorities at Alexandretta, as suspects have been allowed to leave and the incident is closed. The statement that the United States vice consul at Alexandretta was maltreated by the police here is untrue.

Morey Was Short.

Louisville, May 4.—Investigation into the accounts of Joseph W. Morey, assistant cashier for W. B. Belkney & Company, who committed suicide show a shortage so far of about $3,000. Experts are still at work on the books and it is expected that the total will exceed this amount considerably. Morey is said to have lost the money in speculation and gambling.

In the Senate.

Washington, May 4.—Mr. Walcott, chairman of the postoffice and post roads committee reported the postoffice appropriation bill. He gave notice he would call it up for consideration on the 16th inst. The resolution offered by Mr. Teller of Colorado, expressing sympathy with the Boers at the request of the author was laid over for a day.

Instantly Killed.

Huntingdon, Pa., May 4.—Oliver L. Stewart, secretary of the Laird Malleable Iron works of this city, was instantly killed by the bursting of an emery wheel at the company's works. A piece of the wheel pierced his heart. Mr. Stewart was the Huntingdon county Republican choice for state senator in the Huntingdon and Franklin district.

Austrian Emperor at Berlin.

Berlin, May 5.—The standard of the Emperor of Austria waves from the royal palace in Berlin signifying that the ruler of the dual monarchy has taken up his residence there. Emperor Francis Joseph reached Potsdam station punctually at 10 a. m. His majesty's reception was strictly according to program.

Steamer Goes Ashore.

St. Johns, N. F., May 4.—The British steamer Montpelier of the Elder-Dempster line from Cardiff for Montreal, while bound up the St. Lawrence went ashore in a dense fog at Duck island, three miles from Cape Ray, at the entrance to the Cabot strait. The crew was saved.

Washington, May 4.—When the house met, a message from President McKinley vetoing the bill authorizing the adjustment of rights of settlers on the Navajo reservation was laid before the house.

Chadwick's Reply Received.

Washington, May 4.—The navy department has received from Captain Chadwick the acknowledgement of the receipt by him of the department's letter of reprimand which he was directed to return.

Smithfield Occupied.

Alliwal North, Cape Colony, May 4.—Smithfield was occupied by General Hart's brigade. Out of the 150 Boers in the town 25 were captured and the rest decamped. Ladybrand was recently full of Boer wounded who have now been removed to Piesburg.

FOR GREATER LIBERTY

In the Matter of Amusements Will an Earnest Contest Be Made.

PRESENTATION OF THE REPORTS.

Attendance of the Third Session of the Methodist Episcopal Conference Not as Large as in Previous Days.

Chicago, May 4.—There was a plentitude of empty seats when the third session of the Methodist Episcopal general conference began.

The devotional exercises which preface the day's work were conducted by Rev. H. J. Cozine of Puget Sound university, while Bishop H. W. Warren presided over the business session.

Caleb H. Butterworth, the lay delegate from New Jersey, was in his seat, the committee to which the protest against his being seated was referred having decided that his credentials were sufficient. There were many delegates in the house with resolutions and papers concerning the amusement question.

Rev. William Fawcett of Chicago, though not a delegate himself, has given his views in favor of greater liberty in the matter of amusements to delegates, while C. W. Pearson of the Northwestern university, handed his plea to Secretary Monroe. Many others admitted to having resolutions on the subject. It was predicted that there would be much discussion over the resolutions.

The first business of the session was the presentation of the reports of the various committees for the past quadrennium.

The hours were lightened by some vivacious as well as vigorous debate. Dr. Henry Brown, Columbia river conference, brought the amusement question to the front early in the day by offering a resolution which in substance was that the conference by proper action show the world that the church had not changed front on the amusement question. He asked, to forestall action by those in favor of greater liberality in this matter, that rule 248 of the Book of Discipline be for the next quadrennium left substantially unchanged. A sharp debate on parliamentary technicalities followed, resulting in the resolution being referred to the committee on the state of the church.

During a lull Dr. A. N. Craft, East Ohio conference, secured passage of the resolution calling for a committee composed of one member of each conference district to inquire into the condition of the Methodist Theological seminaries.

Rev. J. A. Kumler, of Illinois, then stirred up further debate by calling for a committee of 141, one from each conference district to inquire into the matter of the deaconesses societies. Rev. H. Jackson, of the Rock river conference, secured the floor and asked that the committee be doubled in size by the appointment of one lay and one clerical delegate from each conference. After further debate the committee was reduced to 50 to be composed of an equal number of laymen and preachers.

Dr. William G. Wilson, of Iowa, introduced a resolution which caused the most active and vigorous debate of the session. The resolution read as follows: "Resolved that no bishop or general conference officer shall receive anything above actual expenses for services in the dedication and reopening of churches, attending commencement of Methodist educational institutions, or for any similar services which he might render the church."

The insinuation in the resolution that the bishops had asked for more than actual expenses some times was received with indignant looks by the bishops themselves and caused half a dozen gentlemen to clamor for recognition. The resolution was amended and adopted.

Startling Facts.

Washington, May 4.—The senate committee on printing continued its hearing in the matter of the publication of the papers and messages of President McKinley, hearing George Barcus, the publisher of the work. George W. Seaver, his attorney, and Mr. Aylsworth R. Spofford, assistant librarian of congress. The fact that 2,000 sets of books have been sold or contracted for was brought out. Mr. Spofford said that he had been merely an employee of the publication company and that he had resigned that position.

All Parties Discharged.

New York, May 4.—George F. Conasidine, manager of the Broadway Athletic club and Jimmy Hayward and Kid Thomas, pugilists, were discharged from custody after having been arraigned in police court on the charge of attempting to conduct a boxing contest without a license. The magistrate held that under the Horton law, no license was necessary. This decision makes possible the pulling off the bout scheduled between Joe Walcott and "Mysterious Billy" Smith.

Failures For April.

New York, May 4.—Bradstreet's review shows failures in April were not only fewer than in any corresponding month for a number of years past, but they were 13 per cent smaller in number than in March and were, in fact the lightest in any month since September last year, when business embarrassments and liabilities were the smallest reported in any month for at least seven years past. Liabilities showed even a larger shrinkage from the preceding month of March than did failures themselves, the decrease being nearly 21 per cent, but compared with April a year ago, the falling off is only a fractional one, this being due mainly to the occurrence of a few large failures in New York City and Boston.

Chapel Dedicated.

Paris, May 4.—Cardinal Richard, the archbishop of Paris, performed the ceremony of the dedication of the chapel in the Rue Jean Goujon erected to the memory of the charity bazaar victims, by Count and Countess Castellane. The monument is architecturally a fine piece of work and its sculptural decorations are singularly appropriate to the role of a commemorative chapel. A colossal statue of the Mater Dolorosa, with face upturned and arms outstretched toward heaven stands on a marble and bronze altar. The edifice was hung with sable trappings for the ceremony. Owing to the size of the chapel, only two representatives of each family which suffered by the disaster were invited. The dedication ceremony consisted of a low requiem mass.

Victims of Fire.

New York, May 4.—Four persons were killed in fires here and a fifth lies fatally injured in a hospital. At a lodging house fire in South street, John Curran, a marine engineer, was burned to death and Fireman Daniel Mullen was thrown from a ladder, receiving injuries from which he died. Fireman James Fitzpatrick was fatally injured by the overturning of a hose truck which he was driving. An explosion wrecked the fat and tallow factory of Joseph Stern & Company and two men are believed to have been buried under the ruins. They are Thomas Maguire and Joseph Drum. A gang of men worked all night in the ruins in a vain effort to recover the bodies.

Winner of Oratorical Contest.

Denver, May 4.—The 27th annual contest of the interstate oratorical association at Central Presbyterian church in this city was won by William S. Wescott, of Wisconsin. Paul P. Proser of Missouri won second place and Francis A. Heald of Iowa, third. The contests were the winners of the state contests of the ten states embraced in the association. The Ohio orator was Arthur E. Gringel, Wittenberg college, Springfield.

Coptic In Quarantine.

San Francisco, May 4.—The steamer Coptic which has arrived from the Orient via Honolulu is in quarantine. On last Friday when the vessel sailed from Honolulu there had been no new cases of plague for 25 days and the quarantine that has been since the middle of last December was to have been raised last Monday by the Honolulu board of health provided no more cases of plague appeared.

Estimate of Damages.

Denver, May 4.—The flood in the Platte river caused by the bursting of the Denver Union Water company's diverting dam on Goose creek is subsiding at this point. The total loss from the washing out of railroad tracks in Platte canyon, destruction of bridges, flooding of ranches and gardens is estimated at $40,000 and the water company estimates the damage to its works at $75,000.

Work is Progressing.

Buffalo, May 4.—The striking car repairers, inspectors, etc. of the New York Central, have all reported for duty and work is progressing as usual. The forces of the striking freight handlers have been further augmented by 25 men from the Grand Trunk road. There has been no break in the ranks of the freight men. The handling of local freight is practically at a standstill.

GUESTS OF ST. LOUIS.

Admiral Dewey and His Wife Are Elaborately Entertained.

RECEPTIONS, DINNERS AND PARADES

Follow In Quick Succession Throughout the Day—An Extensive Drive Through Parks and Along Boulevards.

St. Louis, May 4.—The program for the entertainment of Admiral and Mrs. Dewey during their visit in St. Louis began at 10:30 a. m., when the members of the Merchants' Exchange and their families met the admiral and bade him welcome to St. Louis.

Receptions, dinners and parades followed in quick succession. Admiral and Mrs. Dewey breakfasted rather late, the long ride from Chicago and the parade at Jacksonville having tired the admiral considerably.

Shortly after 10 a. m. a reception committee from the Merchants' Exchange called on the admiral at the Planters' hotel and at 10:30 a. m. the admiral and Mrs. Dewey and Lieutenants Caldwell and Crawford were escorted to carriages and driven to the Merchants' Exchange where the first of a series of receptions in their honor were held.

A crowd of several thousand people had gathered in front of the Planters' hotel and stood in front of the Merchants' Exchange and the admiral was given an ovation all the way along the short drive to the entrance of the exchange. The interior of the exchange was tastefully decorated for the occasion. As Admiral Dewey stepped on the platform he was greeted with enthusiastic applause and waving of handkerchiefs which continued for several minutes.

President Whitelaw then made a brief address, in behalf of the members of the exchange, welcoming Admiral and Mrs. Dewey to St. Louis.

Admiral Dewey smilingly responded, assuring the members of his pleasure at being in St. Louis.

An informal reception was held, when the distinguished party was escorted to carriages and taken for a drive through the park systems and along the beautiful boulevards and driveways of the west end.

In the party besides Admiral and Mrs. Dewey were the admiral's son, George Dewey of Chicago, Mayor and Mrs. Zeigheim, Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Whitelaw, Lieutenants Caldwell and Crawford and several members of the Merchants' Exchange.

Out Washington avenue the party driven along Vandeventer Place, a private driveway lined with magnificent residences and finally to Forest park. At the Blair monument near the entrance to the park, the carriages drew up for a few moments while the Admiral and Mrs. Dewey alighted and shook hands with a number of girl students of Forest Park university, who presented the admiral with a huge bunch of roses.

The visitors were driven through Forest park. The park is one of the largest in the country and in places almost in a state of nature and as the admiral was rapidly whirled along the long and shaded driveways and over the roads leading along the shores of the lakes and lagoons of the park he several times expressed his pleasure and appreciation of the beauties of the place.

About Guam's Affairs.

Washington, May 4.—Governor Leary has sent to the navy department another of his characteristic official reports about affairs in Guam, including the results of a thorough census taken under his direction and a financial statement of the first six months of his administration which shows gratifying and growing surplus of Mexican dollars in the island treasury. American money has not yet entered into circulation in Guam and the figures in the balance sheet represent the silver currency left there by the Spaniards. The amount in the local treasury on July 1, 1899, was $2,171. The receipts from July 1 to January 1 last, were $9,415, and the expenditures for the same period were $6,767, leaving in the treasury on January 1, 1900, $4,819. The receipts will not be so large for the remainder of the fiscal year, as the tax of the marriage licenses will not be so productive.

Chicago, May 4.—Henry S. Boutle was renominated by acclamation in the Sixth district Republican convention. Resolutions were passed endorsing the St. Louis platform, the administration of President McKinley, favoring a reduction of the war revenue tax, urging the restriction of trusts and expressing sympathy for the Boers.

GOEBEL'S WOUND.

All Doubt Settled on That Point—Shot Was Not Fired From Behind Him—The Post Mortem.

In the preliminary hearing of the case against W. H. Culton, on his motion for bail, one of the witnesses Thursday was Dr. T. R. Welch, State Senator from Jessamine County, who was one of the three physicians who held the official post-mortem examination on Governor Goebel's body. He told of the result of the post-mortem in the following technical language:

"The bullet entered three and one-half inches to right of right nipple and one-half inch above a horizontal line drawn through both nipples and two and three-sixteenths from the anterior border of right axilla, fifty-two and one-half inches from the level of the right heel, cut into the sixth rib, fracturing it, passed through the middle of the lower lobe of the right lung, passing out of the body between the ninth and tenth ribs of right side, thence behind the spinal column to make exit an inch and a half to the left of the spinous process fifty and seven sixteenths inches from the level of the left heel. In the track of the wound between its entrance and the fractured rib were found particles of clothing. The fractured spiculae of rib pointed inward and one piece was torn loose from the inside of rib but hanging by the tissues. The entrance and exit wounds were both six sixteenths of an inch in diameter, the entrance wound being considerably bruised and discolored, the exit wound clean and clear. In the lung tissue were found a number of small spiculae of bone."

Dr. James R. Ely, a Frankfort physician, testified that he helped to make the post-mortem examination. He corroborated Dr. Welch in every particular, and in common parlance said the wounds of entrance and exit were almost exactly the same size; that small splinters of the rib bone were driven into the right lung, which could not have happened if the bullet had been fired from behind; that the bullet struck no other bone than the rib.

JACK CHINN

Tells of the Cowardly Assassination of Goebel.

Positive Shot Came From Executive Building—Evidence of Others Leaves Little Doubt the Deed Was Prearranged.

In the Circuit Court at Frankfort Friday in hearing the motion of W. H. Culton, one of the Goebel murder suspects, for bail, the Commonwealth brought out sensational evidence all going to show the damnable deed was prearranged.

Capt. John F. Hawn, of Barbourville, was the first witness. He said John Powers asked him on January 25 to take his company of State guards to Frankfort in citizens' clothes, with uniforms and ammunition concealed and their guns. To this Hawn said he demurred strongly.

"Next morning he came to me again," said Hawn. "He said if I did not have a full company on hand he would get enough men to make up a command of eighty men. Caleb Powers saw me later and told me a life and death struggle was going on at Frankfort. He wanted to swear me to secrecy, but I told him that, being a Democrat, I did not care to hear his plans. He then wanted me to turn my company over to Second Lieutenant Gibson, with the ammunition. I declined to do so unless he had instructions from Gov. Taylor, but he declined to wire for orders, on ground that the Western Union people were not friendly to his side, and he feared the message would leak out."

Next Jack Chinn was called. "The shots came from this direction," said Chinn, indicating the Secretary of State's office on the plat near him. "I did not see anyone shooting, but the second window from the corner building," again pointing to the Secretary's office, "was raised about eighteen or twenty inches. Eph Lillard called my attention to it."

"Did you shoot Goebel?" asked Franklin, the Commonwealth's Attorney. "I did not. I had no pistol out, and I was never in Goebel's rear. The first shot was the keen crack of a rifle, and the others were muffled, as if fired back in the building."

El. Steffey, who saw Goebel fall, was called. He was leaning against a pillar on the State House porch watching Goebel. He had never before testified. He said:

"The sound of the shots came from the Executive building. As I ran toward Goebel I thought I saw a rifle barrel sticking out of the second or third window from the southwest corner of the building on the first floor. As I looked the gun was withdrawn, and the window, which was open, was closed. I saw a little smoke rising above the third window in the second floor after the volley of muffled shots."

On cross-examination Steffey said: "When the first shot was fired, Goebel spun clean around and fell on his right knee. He tried to get up and then fell back. Jack Chinn was by his side, a few inches behind him or a few inches in front, I don't know which. When Goebel fell Chinn left him, and advanced three or four yards toward me. I saw two feet of the barrel of the rifle as it was pulled into the window. I think the last three shots were fired from a pistol."

Judge Ben Williams testified as follows: "I was standing at the front of the Capitol building on the morning of the murder when Culton, Berry Howard and a third man met near me and had a whispered conversation. This third man had an evil visage. When they separated, the third man went to the Adjutant General's office after surveying the yard and surroundings carefully. In a few minutes Goebel was shot."

Wade Watts, a negro porter at the Executive building, said he saw Harland Whittaker, Silas Jones, Green Golden and others, including many armed mountaineers, about the Capitol before the shooting.

"Just after the shooting," said the negro, "Mr. Youtsey ran down into the basement at the east end, and came running through the barber shop, saying, 'My God, what's all the shooting?' As he started out he said to somebody else, 'The thing is up at last.'"

"This other person had asked him what was the matter."

Watts said he heard Sergt. Ricketts, of the mountain party, say to a party of others: "Everybody knows what we came here for, and we might as well do it or go home."

Continuing, Watts testified: "I heard a mountaineer tell Judge Lilly, the Representative, that if twenty-five men could get into the House they would kill off all the Democrats in two minutes and a half, if the Republican members would keep their seats. 'We would kill 'em like G—d—rate,' this man said to Lilly.

Then they talked in low tones. After the shooting this man put on a Sergeant's uniform.

"I heard some of the mountain men say things would be settled on Tuesday." On cross-examination the witness said: "When Mr. Youtsey ran through the basement he seemed to be holding something under his coat."

Dudley Williams, a member of the Frankfort Company of State Guards, said: "I was on duty at the arsenal during January. We had orders not to wear uniforms ordinarily, but about 9 o'clock on January 30 we were given orders to put on our uniforms. About an hour before we marched out we were issued overcoats and side arms. We were in line in the arsenal some time before we got orders to move. Then we started for the State House. We were nearly there when I heard Goebel was shot."

STOCK SALES MONDAY.

It Is Court Day—If You Have Horses, Sheep, Hogs or Cattle for Sale, Bring Them In.

So well established are the stock sales on County Court day we feel very little space need be devoted to this announcement. However as the BULLETIN is ever desirous to give information which will help its rural readers and inure to their benefit, it leaves just here the beaten track of ordinary courts to discuss the advantages which Maysville stock sales afford.

Here is the center of trade in horses; we are the middle-men in tobacco; sheep, hogs and poultry find us a point of advantage, because Eastern firms have resident buyers, who, by reason of that competition which live methods produce, pay prices for commodities which the great city market offers. And in the matter of being able to buy all you need for making life comfortable we insist upon asserting that our merchants have as fine and great a stock from which to purchase at prices so reasonable that much more than expenses and time spent in trading can be saved by you. Bargains can be found and they are real ones, not "Cheap John's."

For the past year all stores, supplies and fuel have been going up steadily, until some lines are nearly double. MRS. REBECCA MEANS.

Sudden Death at Bloomington, Ill., of the Mother of Major W. H. Means'. Burial Here.

Major W. H. Means received late last evening the sad news of the death of his mother, Mrs. Rebecca Means, which occurred at Bloomington, Illinois, at the home of her granddaughter, Mrs. C. C. Pearce, where she was visiting.

Maj. Means left by the first train this morning for Bloomington in response to the sad message, and will bring the remains of his mother to Maysville, where the funeral services will be held and the interment will be at the Maysville Cemetery. The date of the funeral has not yet been fixed, but will be announced later.

Mrs. Means' home for the past two years had been with her son in this city. She had been for some years a great sufferer from asthma and had gone to the home of her granddaughter in the hope of benefiting her health, but without avail. She was the widow of the late Amos Means, of Lewis County, and a sister of the late Henry C. Barkley, of this city, and of Thomas J. Barkley, of Cincinnati.

The sad news of her death comes as a shock to her relatives and many friends.

CAPTAIN HARBESON

Son of Judge Harbeson Recommended for Promotion for Gallant and Meritorious Services.

[Flemingsburg Times-Democrat.]

It affords us pleasure to print the subjoined extract from the final report of Major General Henry W. Lawton in regard to the gallant conduct of our fellow-townsmen, Lieut. Jas. P. Harbeson, in the campaign in which he was wounded in June, 1899. The following is the extract from General Lawton's report referred to:

"First Lieutenant J. P. Harbeson, Twelfth Infantry, also exposed himself fearlessly, encouraging and directing his men until he was wounded.

"I have the honor to make the following recommendations: To receive brevet commissions for conduct at fight of Zapote river, June 10th, 1899, First Lieutenant James P. Harbeson to be Captain, for gallantry and meritorious service."

This recommendation of the gallant Lawton, himself now dead, has no doubt ere this been carried into effect, and we salute you, Captain Harbeson.

GIBRALTAR AND MALTA.

Maysvillians Tell of Their Visit to Far off Points and of Their Ocean Voyage to the Philippines.

TRANSPORT SUMNER,
HARBOR OF MALTA,
Apr. 18th, 1900.

Dear Bulletin: Here we are, safe and sound, happy and healthy, as are all on board the Sumner, our elegant transport, a veritable floating Waldorf Astoria, which indeed reflects credit upon our Uncle Sam, and which has been designated the "Queen of transports of the world," now anchored in twenty-five fathoms of water in the port of Malta, right under the nose of this formidable English possession and a few hundred yards to the right of a large fleet of England's men of war.

We left New York March 31st, taking a course infrequently traveled by vessels and having a comparatively smooth sea all the way, arrived at Gibraltar April 12th after a splendid voyage of ten days, where our ship laid two days, taking coal and giving the officers and soldiers ample time to take in the sights of famous Gibraltar, the coast of Africa and the cities of Complimento, San Roka and Catelami of Spain, English, African and Spanish cities, all within a stone's throw. A short distance to the northern end of Gibraltar is a neutral neck of land, one side picketed with English sentries, the other with Spanish, and near to England's guards is a large, handsome park, known as "Queen's Garden," which is a most beautiful sight to us Maysville boys, notwithstanding our vague recollection of the Market street esplanade, with Frank Devine chewing the political rag in the shade of one of those famous trees, also of Electric Park, of the East End, which, under the skillful management of Lud Hamilton, has given out such delightful pleasures to us two and so many others.

The city of Gibraltar on the west side of the rock is occupied by 25,000 people, mostly soldiers and assistants, living in houses built entirely of light-colored stone, which, seen from our ship at night, seemed like so many stars set in the side of the rock. The guns are not visible and we are informed that even the English soldiers do not know just where each gun is located, each battery being familiar only with the situation of its particular pits and no one having knowledge of any other. The rock is tunneled from end to end, and 'tis easy to believe it the strongest fortification in the world, as it commands all entrances from the Atlantic and Mediterranean and could easily get a range in any direction. At the top of the rock the ruins of an old castle may be plainly seen, and this is all we can say of famous Gibraltar, as our time is limited, writing material scarce and we are restricted to a certain weight of postage, most necessary by our state of impetuosity, as we will not receive one shilling for four months at least.

The Sumner left Gibraltar Saturday night and sailing along the coast of Africa for quite a distance, always in sight of land, arrived at Malta this morning, April 18th. While we found Gibraltar interesting, Malta is grand. We are about 100 yards from the quaint foreign looking city of Valetta, considerably larger than the city of Gibraltar and most decidedly more interesting. Valetta forms a kind of half circle, sixty miles in length, the buildings being of the same material as at Gibraltar, but handsomer and much larger. Around the edge is built a very high stone wall, and the red-coated sentinels can be seen high above us patrolling his post on top of this wall, and swarms of row-boats (a kind of gondola) are continually hanging around us, selling oranges, figs, dates, cigars, cigarettes, etc., at unconceivably small prices, while to hear the chitter-chatter of the Maltese natives and to watch their curiously cunning maneuvers causes no little amusement and merriment among us Americans. 'Tis also quite funny to try to tell these fellows what we desire, so they will understand. We will go ashore at Valetta and drill two hours to-morrow, thereby being able to see more of this curious and picturesque old city.

Leaving Malta April 19th we stop next at Port Said, Alexandria, Singapore and Colombo, thence to Manila, completing a voyage that we two would not have missed for any consideration. Have seen several whales, a few sharks and any number of porpoises, but fortunately neither of us have been sea-sick and we are in splendid health. "Taps" the call for lights out, has just gone, so the BULLETIN must now excuse us, as we have not the say as to when we shall retire.

With very kindest regards we beg to remain, very truly,

CLAY S. WORICK,

JOHN S. STEPHENS.

P.S.—Were escorted all through Valetta by two English bands. The largest disappearing English gun is at Malta, eighty-two feet long, firing 4,082 pounds every two minutes, penetrating forty-two inch steel at twenty-three miles. It is considered by naval powers the most powerful in the world.

KIRK-MORGAN.

A Mason Countian Weds a Young Lady of Bath.

At the residence of Mr. Richard Kirk on Wednesday evening, May 2nd, a wedding occurred between their son Hiram and Miss Nancy Morgan, of Bath County. The ceremony was performed by Elder W. W. Hall.

The bride was dressed in white, with pink trimmings. Her raven locks, that hung in ringlets about her head, were tastefully arranged, lending a peculiar charm to her attractive face. The groom, dressed in a suit of conventional black, with his bride robed in white, leaning upon his arm, presented a stately and striking appearance. There were many relatives present, the people from Tuckahoe turning out en masse. Among the guests who gathered from near and far were some from Missouri and Virginia.

After refreshments were served each young lady guest took a piece of wedding cake to dream upon. Then came congratulations and many kind, good wishes, and the friends took their departure.

FOR THE PUBLIC GOOD.

The Information Contained in This Citizen's Statement is Invaluable to Maysville People.

When a resident of Maysville whose statement appears below who has no monetary or other interest in the article which he indorses, who is anxious to do his acquaintances and fellow residents a God good turn, who publishes in this paper his experience with Doan's Kidney Pills—that citizen must have good and sufficient reason for doing so. The following should dispel any doubts which may have existed in the reader's mind on this subject:

Mr. P. Gantley, grocer of 314 East Fourth street, says: "The prompt and thorough relief from backache given by Doan's Kidney Pills is the strongest endorsement possible. When backache is caused by the lack of proper action of the kidneys the only reason for continuing to suffer is the want of knowledge of Doan's Kidney Pills. I procured them at J. James Wood & Son's drug store, West Second and Market streets."
